PROJECTS

Automatic Street Light Control System (Mini Project)

Automatic street light control system is a minor project that helps in automatically turning off lights based on the ambient lighting conditions.

It uses sensors to detect the amount of light in the environment and triggers the lights to turn off when it is bright enough or during the daytime.

Indore Monitoring System Using IoT Technology

Engineered a IoT-based system to collect and report real-time environmental data from an indoor setting.

Integrated an Embedded System (Arduino) with relevant sensors and a wireless communication protocol (Wi-Fi) for data acquisition and transmission.

Integrated the embedded system with a Cloud platform to store sensor data and provide secure remote access to the monitoring system.

Applied knowledge of IoT to ensure reliable, efficient communication between the embedded device and the server.

Focused on affordable and reliable IoT-based assistive technology for improved accessibility.
